GENHQ207	The following work-based burnout questions are taken from the Copenhagen Burnout Inventory – an internationally recognised and validated question set designed to measure wellbeing. Work-related burnout is defined in the Inventory as a state of prolonged physical and psychological exhaustion, which is perceived as related to the person’s work. These questions are optional and are included on a pilot basis. The NTS confidentially and data privacy policy applies to these questions –as it does to all multiple choice questions within the survey. The results and our analysis will only ever be reported in aggregated form. Individual responses will not be identifiable. We are testing these questions because of concerns about the impact that working conditions are having on doctors’ personal lives, including how pressures could lead to burnout, and have a negative impact on doctors’ wellbeing. Our analysis will be conducted using aggregated data, not individual responses. Over the last year, we have worked with doctors, their representatives and educators to explore how we can sensitively measure wellbeing in a way that survey respondents will feel comfortable with, and which will allow us to explore trends in burnout among doctors in training and trainers. If you are worried you may be experiencing burnout and don’t know who to approach locally for support, you can find links to organisations which can help you here. Would you like to answer the following burnout questions?	Yes   No	Burnout

CLSGQ75	Patient safety You now have an opportunity to raise any patient safety concerns about your post. All doctors have a duty to act when they believe patient safety is at risk, or when a patient's dignity or comfort is being compromised. This includes raising concerns through local channels when they arise. The organisation where you are currently working may be the most appropriate and effective place for you to raise the concern and this should be your first consideration. What is the process? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. We require that all concerns will be investigated by your deanery/LETB (LETB is the name for deaneries in England).</li> <li>2. To investigate your comment, we will share the following with your deanery/LETB: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Your verbatim comment</li> <li>▪ Your training site</li> <li>▪ Your post specialty</li> <li>▪ Your programme specialty</li> <li>▪ Your training level</li> </ul> </li> <li>3. The deanery/LETB will liaise directly with the organisation/trust you are working for (your employer), in order to undertake a thorough investigation, as appropriate.</li> <li>4. We check each deanery/LETB response, to ensure that we are satisfied with the outcome.</li> </ol>	Free text	Patient safety
CLSGQ88	Am I guaranteed anonymity? No. Your individual answers to the multiple choice questions in the survey will always remain confidential. Concerns about patient safety that you raise within the survey will also be treated as confidential, and will not be made public by the GMC. Answers are only used by the GMC to support its statutory functions related to medical education and training. However, because patient safety must come first, this is subject to three exceptions.		Patient safety

CLSGQ89	1. First, as explained above we will share your verbatim comment and other information about you with your deanery/LETB so that they can investigate your concern. We will not routinely share your identity when we share your concern. However, in some cases, the deanery/LETB may ask who you are so they can ask you for further details about your concern. In this case, we will share your identity. This is because our first priority must be the care of patients. We will inform you before we do this. 2. Secondly, if the concern you raise about patient safety becomes relevant to a fitness to practise investigation then we will share your comment with the Fitness to Practise Directorate. We will inform you before we do this. This could include circumstances where fitness to practise proceedings are taken against a doctor, where there are grounds to believe that doctor has raised a concern that is not honest or made in good faith. 3. We will share comments with appropriate regulatory bodies where there is a legitimate need to do so. In all of the above situations, we expect your full co-operation with the process. We value your openness and transparency and we will support you provided that you act honestly and in good faith.		Patient safety
CLSGQ90	Raising concerns about a doctor's fitness to practise It is not appropriate to raise concerns about a doctor's fitness to practise here in the national training survey. Your comment in the survey is not a fitness to practise referral. If your concern is about the fitness to practise of a doctor, please see the guidance on raising concerns on our website, where you can also find details of our confidential helpline.		Patient safety
