

UK Royal College and Faculty exams which provide appropriate objective assurance for revalidation

You do not need to take the revalidation assessment if you provide evidence you have passed the exams required to gain membership or fellowship of one of the bodies listed below.

Where there is more than one part to the exam, you must provide evidence to show you have completed all of the parts of the exam. You must have passed the most recent exam within the last 5 years. We will not accept evidence of successful completion of only parts of the exam.
