

Patient: 123456789

13/10/2022

Reference: CA/AE123456789

Dr A Smith
3 Hardman Street
Manchester
M3 3AW

Dear Dr Smith

Re: Miss Anne Example D.O.B 10/10/1985 Patient no: 123456789
12 Example Street Example Town Manchester M1 1XY

This is an example letter written to demonstrate permanent redaction of patient data.

In this example, the letter is addressed to the fictional GP of the example patient Miss Anne Example.

For the purposes of this example, Anne attended the appointment with her fictional husband Bill.

The fictional test results 3849123 were shared with Anne and the questions she had regarding the results were discussed.

Miss Anne Example will not be requiring further treatment.

Yours sincerely

Dr Cesr Applicant

Miss Anne Example

Patient: [REDACTED]

Patient information in the header has been redacted

The QR code has been redacted

13/10/2022

Reference: CA/[REDACTED]

Dr A Smith
3 Hardman Street
Manchester
M3 3AW

The patient number contained in the letter reference has been redacted

Dear Dr Smith

The patient's first and last name, address and patient number have been redacted from the subject line. Dates of birth and gender do not need to be redacted

Re: Miss [REDACTED] D.O.B 10/10/1985 Patient no: [REDACTED]

This is an example letter written to demonstrate permanent redaction of patient data.

In this example, the letter is addressed to the fictional GP of the example patient Miss [REDACTED]

The patient's name has been redacted throughout the body of the letter

For the purposes of this example, [REDACTED] attended the appointment with her fictional husband [REDACTED].

The name of the patient's husband has been redacted

The fictional test results [REDACTED] were shared with [REDACTED] and the questions she had regarding the results were discussed.

Test result numbers have been redacted - these are classed as unique patient identifiers

Miss [REDACTED] will not be requiring further treatment.

Yours sincerely

Again, the patient's first and last name have been redacted

Dr Cesar Applicant

Patient information in the footer has been redacted

Miss [REDACTED]